Specifications

The ambidextrous, perfect partner for your compact keyboard. You can count on me! The new Penclic Numpad is for those of us who can't live without the numerical function. It is perfect to use with your laptop or connected to any Keyboard. Penclic Numpad provides user flexibility, (ambidextrous) and contains many physical and visual ergonomic features to minimise RSI. Made to fit any computer - and the way you work.

The Penclic Numpad has been designed to give the user an attractive number pad which also provides great ergonomic advantages, functionality and comfort without sacrificing comfort for size. An optimal 6mm profile thickness, full size, scissor, quiet touch keys and reduced size are all added benefits which create a healthy working position. The numpad has been designed to increase user comfort and functionality while also allowing users to free up much needed desk space.

The supported platforms for Penclic Numpad are all operating systems that support HID 1.1. These include Windows XP or later, Mac OSX version 10.1 or later and most Linux/BSD flavours. No extra software/driver installation is needed.· USB connection· 0.7 m cable·
6mm high to 25mm at rear. 87mm wide x 162mm deep and weighs 100gm.

Order code: 23PCN2